FOREWORD

The BC Labour Directory is an annual publication of the Policy and Planning Branch of the Ministry of Labour and Consumer Services which compiles information with respect to membership and officials of collective bargaining organizations in the province. The reference date for statistical information is January 1, 1986.

Information for this publication is obtained primarily from Statistics Canada's C.A.L.U.R.A. (Corporations and Labour Unions Returns Act) Survey. Every effort is made to obtain accurate and up-to-date information. The reliability of the information depends mainly on the accuracy of the respondents.

Particular attention is drawn to the union index at the end of the publication. Since some unions have locals with distinct and different names, and some unions are known by short names or initialisms, this index is included to serve as a finding guide to the union listing including full and short forms, initialisms and local names.

We wish to thank all those who cooperated during the gathering of the information that went into the preparation of the BC Labour Directory. In the event that errors or omissions are discovered, it would be appreciated if they were brought to our attention (call 387-1762 in Victoria). The publication was produced by staff members Sharon Churchill and Pieta Van Dyke.

Union Membership Summary 1986

UNION MEMBERSHIP SUMMARY — 1986

As of January 1, 1986 total trade union membership in British Columbia stood at 454,410. This figure is 2.7 per cent lower than the total in 1985, and continues a trend in declining union membership which began in 1983. The estimated proportion of paid workers who are union members is 39.8 per cent, down from the 42.5 per cent recorded in 1985, and the lowest rate of unionization in British Columbia since 1947. The peak level of unionization was in 1958 when 55.4 per cent of British Columbia paid workers were unionized.

The majority of unions registered declines in membership. Of the twenty-two unions with membership of over 5,000, fifteen experienced declines, five had increases in membership, and two remained stable. The greatest decline was registered by the Teachers (4,945 members or 15.1 per cent) followed by the Operating Engineers (12.3 per cent) and the Carpenters (10.0 per cent). The union showing the greatest proportionate increase in membership was the United Fishermen and Allied Workers (up 13.6 per cent) followed by the Health Sciences Association (up 6.6 per cent) and the Office and Technical Employees' Union (up 6.1 per cent). Two major unions which showed no change in membership were the Hospital Employees' Union and the Public Service Alliance of Canada.

The overall ranking of unions by size has changed very little compared to 1985. The B.C. Government Employees' Union remains the largest union in the province with 40,896 members, followed by the International Woodworkers of America with 33,690 members. Rising to third place from fourth place in 1985 is the Canadian Union of Public Employees with 28,302 members. In fourth place in 1986 is the B.C. Teachers' Federation with 27,780 members. There were 22 unions with membership of over 5,000 in 1986.

The number of female trade union members declined by 5.5 per cent from 1985 to a total of 150,376. Male membership declined by 1.2 per cent to 304,034. This is a slight change from 1985 when female membership demonstrated a slight increase and male membership declined. Women comprised 33.0 per cent of all union members, with men making up the remaining 67.0 per cent. Unionized women made up 30.5 per cent of the paid female labour force, compared to 33.8 per cent in 1985. Of male paid workers 46.8 per cent were unionized in 1986 compared to 49.1 per cent in 1985. The union with the greatest number of female members was the Hospital Employees' Union (20,000) followed by the B.C. Government Employees' Union (19,293) and the B.C. Nurses' Union (17,860). The number and proportion of female membership may be underestimated due to the inability of some unions to provide male-female breakdowns.

On an industrial basis, the distribution of union members has changed very little from the previous year. The greatest concentration of members, 23.6 per cent, was in Community Services, representing teachers and other education workers, health and community service workers. The next highest concentration, 18.5 per cent, was in Manufacturing, followed by 16.2 per cent in Public Administration and 14.3 per cent in Transportation and Communication. Continuing the pattern set in 1985, the highest proportion of union members are now employed in the Trade and Service Sectors. In 1986 64.4 per cent of members worked in this area, up from 50.7 per cent in 1985.

As in 1985, just over three quarters of union members belong to unions which are affiliated with a national or international congress. A total of 63.1 per cent of members belong to unions affiliated with the Canadian Labour Congress, 7.8 per cent are members of construction unions affiliated to the Canadian Federation of Labour, 3.8 per cent are with the Confederation of Canadian Unions, and 22.6 per cent of union members belong to unions not affiliated to any national body.

Union Headquarters and Locals

UNION HEADQUARTERS AND LOCALS

This section contains membership and officer information for both headquarters and locals of unions in British Columbia. Entries are arranged in alphabetical order according to the short name of the labour organizations although no official recognition of such abbreviated titles is intended. In those instances where a union's short name is derived from the initials of its full name, alphabetical listing is usually based on the first word in the full name. (For example CUPE comes under "Canadian Union" rather than under "CU").

Beneath the short and full title listing of each union is its affiliation, if any, to international and/or national congresses or federations. Abbreviations used are:

AFL-CIO —American Federation of Labor—
Congress of Industrial Organizations

CLC —Canadian Labour Congress

CFL —Canadian Federation of Labour

BC FED —British Columbia Federation of Labour

CCU —Confederation of Canadian Unions

AFL-CIO/CLC—affiliated with both bodies
